

Clinical Project Nurses: Mental Health and Learning Disability support

We are a team of registered clinicians offering support to health and social care organisations. Our aim is to work collaboratively with you to provide additional capacity and tailored support to meet your needs. We have a lived understanding of how quality improvement and innovation are at the heart of cultural change and sustaining good clinical practices.

Support for mental health services

- Clinical pathway analysis and evidence-based design to meet patient needs
- Practical measures to reduce health inequalities and embed PCREF
- Objective, 'critical friend' peer review
- Programme management for Provider Collaboratives to transform local population health
- Reflective practice provision to enable workforce resilience
- Quality improvements to support purposeful admissions and patient flow
- Coproduced structured services for complex presentations to enable capacity and positive culture
- Transformational change for integration of cross sector neighbourhood working
- Mental health training and education.

Support for learning disability services

- Facilitation of system change to meet local population needs
- Enabling integrated services to support multi-morbidity needs
- Supporting the Transforming Care agenda
- Workforce modelling and development to expand LDA specialist staff
- Innovative pathway support for people with ASD aligned to national guidelines to address service demand
- Enabling capacity with support for LeDeR and C(E)TR's
- Improved adoption of STOMP and STAMP in line with national agendas
- Clinical leadership to improve cross system working for sustained carer support and empowering people with LD.
